Observations...

By the Editor

The deadline for candidates to qualify for the August Primaries expired last Friday, June 8. 23 candidates qualified with Honorable Lamar Otis, Secretary of the county democratic executive committee. This year we will have one of the largest fields in the history of the county. Two of the present office holders, Claiborne Laddner, Tax Assessor, and E. E. Breland, Superintendent of Education, were nominated without opposition. We want to extend our congratulations and good wishes to these boys; and we, like many others, know they have done a good job and certainly deserved to run without opposition. We know they are sympathizing with us who have to work through August 28 to try to be elected, if we are fortunate enough to make the second primary. With the weather as hot as it is, there is going to be some terrific sweating. Often wondered why elections were held in mid-summer. Just to keep the boys hot, both physically and mentally.

The Teen-Age Club Drive has gotten off to a good start. This week we are carrying the list of donors and will do so throughout the drive. The total received to date amounts to $220.00, this is nearly 25% of the quota. We feel that everyone is interested in the welfare of the young folks of our community, and they are not going to see the doors of the Youth Center closed. They are going to make their contributions to this cause. We think it is perhaps one of the most worthy to which we have been asked to contribute. Don't delay; send your contribution in as soon as possible. Let our young folks know that we are backing them, and that we want them to have good, clean, supervised recreation.

The Faheys have done a nice job of remodeling the interior of the drug store. Modern fixtures and a redecorating job has been completed, and a most modern drug store is the result. Again, this is a sure sign of good business in Bay St. Louis.

It is indeed gratifying to see work begin on the Waveland Beach road. The mud jack started Monday morning of this week. The Beach road is one of the most imperative needs we have in Beat 5; and, as we stated in our announcement for supervisor and in a later ad, unless something is done to save this road, we are going to lose it. We hope that this work will continue on until every cavity is filled, and that plans will be carried on to repair the sections which are too badly broken to be raised with the mud-jack.

We want the candidates and particularly those in the race for Supervisor, Beat 5, to know that this newspaper is not exclusively for the use of the editor who is a candidate for this office. A newspaper is a public service, and it is for your use. Our local advertising rates are 45 cents per inch; don't forget we can always make room for your ad, and we will appreciate your business. We will not attempt to steal your thunder, we have our own.

C. M. MORGAN IS A CANDIDATE FOR OFFICE

We are authorized to announce the candidacy of C. M. (Red) Morgan to succeed himself as Public Service Commissioner for the Second District of Mississippi, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary election August 7, 1951.

Mr. Morgan has served as Public Service Commissioner for several years, and has rendered faithful and efficient service. From the experience he has gained, it is doubtful if there is a man better equipped to serve the district in this important office.

His genial personality, his analytical mind and ability to fight for what he thinks is right and for what he thinks will benefit the greatest number of people, makes him an outstanding public official.

Mr. Morgan has always been at the beck and call of his constituents, and he has always been ready to carry on the fight for their rights. He is never too busy to see them nor to take care of their wants.

In Hancock County he has led the fight on several occasions in the matter of commuters' rates, and the train stops, particularly at Waveland. He has shown a great interest in the welfare of this section.

In offering his candidacy for reelection, Mr. Morgan solicits the continued support of his many friends in the county and is thankful for their many past favors.

PLAN RALLIES

Political rallies will be held at Logtown school Friday, July 13, and at Gulfview school Wednesday, July 25.

All candidates for political offices are invited to attend.

According to Commissioner Laddner, the completion time of the Sutter Well Works, which was set out in the bid as three months, has been reduced to 56 days, since they have received advice that the delivery of the pump can be affected in that time.

TOTAL SET ASIDE
The total amount set aside by the Council for the drilling of the well and for engineering services, etc., for the completion of a survey is $13,549.53.

A survey to present a substantially true and correct picture of housing needs and requirements in the City of Bay St. Louis was completed by the firm of Gould, Gleiss and Benn, Incorporated, this week, John A. Scaffie, chairman of the Authority, announced.

554 SUB - STANDARD
Following interviews at 791 residences in the City of Bay St. Louis, it was found that 554 were of a sub-standard nature - they were lacking proper bathroom facilities and other necessities.

A preliminary loan of $2880, to take care of expenses incurred in surveys and selection of sites was made.

USED FOR SURVEYS
The total of the preliminary loan authorized, $14,000.00, will be made for surveys and planning for a low-rent housing project.

The note specifies that it is not a debt of the city, the county, the state or any political division, thereof, and neither the city nor the state, nor any political division or subdivision thereof shall be liable hereon, nor shall it be payable out of any funds or properties other than those of the local Housing Authority.

The Housing Authority, Chairman Scaffie added, will pay to the City, taxes on the same proportion as other assessments prevailing in the area, if the low rent Housing Project is finally authorized and built.

Mrs. Bea Georgi Announces For J. P.

We are authorized to announce the candidacy of Mrs. Bea Georgi for the office of Justice of the Peace, Beat Five, Hancock County, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary election to be held August 7, 1951.

To The Voters of Beat Five, Hancock County:

One of the ambitions of my life has been to serve as Justice of the Peace in this District; and in announcing my candidacy, I earnestly solicit the votes of all of the qualified voters, but particularly of the women voters of this beat, and I assure you that my program as outlined below shall be carried out to the best of my ability.

First, I shall not encourage civil marriages, as marriage is a sacred contract, which should be performed by a clergyman.

Second, all cases brought before me for trial shall not be prejudged, nor shall my verdict in these cases be controlled, but shall be passed upon according to the law and the evidence.

Third, I shall not be controlled nor influenced by any group or individual.

Fourth, I will give everyone a fair trial, regardless of political factions, race or creed.

I feel that I am qualified and shall uphold my oath of office, and I respectfully solicit your vote and influence in behalf of my candidacy for Justice of the Peace, which is in my opinion a very important office.

Sincerely,
BEA GEORGI

Veteran Players Fill The Cast Of "Silver Whistle"

It is said that the motive that inspired the writing of "The Silver Whistle," forthcoming Little Theatre production, was a secret hope of the author that the spirit of youth could at least be enlivened.

Robert McEnroe in no way intends that his characters should revert to etons and pinafors, but rather that they should absorb enough of the desire to be younger to express it in their daily lives and to gain a sense of hope instead of futility.

According to various reviews, the story leaves one with the impression that Mr. McEnroe means to impress a sense of continuity rather than inspiration.

In the cast of "The Silver Whistle" are such veteran players as Mrs. Adeline Samuel, Philip Allison, Dr. Harold Keefe, George Fletcher, C. Drury Blair, Kenneth Thompson, and among the newcomers Mrs. Mae Tudor, Theo Schroth and Mrs. Christel Schaefer, who has appeared only with the local players.

"The Silver Whistle" has an entirely different angle than any thing which has been previously produced at the Bay St. Louis Little Theatre.

This ideal summer entertainment will be produced in July by Mrs. Marie Louise Blair.

May I call your attention to the fact that for this office you must cast your ballot for two candidates. In the event you vote for only one candidate for Justice of the Peace, your ballot will be spoiled in your vote for this office. It is the only office where you vote for two candidates. May I impress this upon you and ask that you do not overlook it.

Thanking each and every voter for any consideration shown my candidacy, and with the hope of being your judge, I am,
Sincerely,
BEA GEORGI

A MAN OF GOD

The parishioners of Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church joined with their Pastor, the Right Reverend Monsignor Andrew J. Canon Gmelch, yesterday, in the celebration of the golden jubilee, of his ordination to the Holy Priesthood. Indeed a splendid occasion for a celebration. Fifty years of service to God and to his church.

Monsignor Gmelch left his homeland in Germany, a mere boy, and migrated to America. He entered the seminary in Cullman, and New Orleans; and in 1901 was ordained. He chose to serve in the diocese of Natchez, and was assigned to several of the mission parishes in the State of Mississippi. In 1918 he was named Pastor of Our Lady of the Gulf in Bay St. Louis, coming here from Canton, and for the past 33 years he has done a splendid job in directing the spiritual welfare of one of the larger Catholic parishes of Mississippi.

Modest and unassuming he is truly a man of God. His first thoughts are for the spiritual welfare of the children and the sick of his parish. Even at his age in life his greatest delight is to call upon the sick and to bring Holy Communion to their bedside. His interest in the children of his parish is displayed most forcibly, for only sickness can prevent his participation in any church celebration for them, and then to see his triumphant smile at that time readily reveals to you his true feelings.

The Catholics of Bay St. Louis have been most fortunate in having Monsignor Gmelch as their Pastor. It was he who was actually responsible for the late most reverend Bishop Leo F. Fahey's entry into the priesthood, and with the ordination of Reverend Father Lacy Green a few weeks ago, he has seen during his pastorate here, two young men from his parish become priests.

The work of a priest can only be measured by the response of his parishioners in a spiritual manner, and certainly from all outward signs the fifty years of priestly life of Monsignor Gmelch has been crowned with achievements.

We join with his many other parishioners in extending to him our sincere congratulations and good wishes, and we ask for him many more years of active life in our midst.

Miss Clara Kergosien left on Wednesday by auto to visit her sister, Mrs. Joseph Blaize, Mr. Blaize and children at Bunkie, Louisiana. Accompanying her on the trip were Brenda and Lynette Kergosien, Everett Kergosien, son of Bay St. Louis, Andrea and Suzanne Kergosien of Bogalusa and Andrea Blaize of Port Allen, Louisiana.

—Suzanne Fitzpatrick left Monday for her home in Mobile, Alabama, after a two weeks visit with her cousins, Linda Sue and Bobby Lee.

SLAVE LABOR

Reaching my desk this morning is a booklet of 112 pages, entitled "Soviet Imperialism Plunders Asia." This booklet is published by the Free Trade Union Committee of the American Federation of Labor, also called Labor League for Human Rights. The first chart in the book is a map showing the location of 175 penal colonies or slave labor camps operated by the USSR. The book seems to be authentic and well documented. It points out that there are 14 million of these slave laborers. For that matter, the other millions living under Soviet domination are in effect slaves of a godless tyranny. There is no doubt but what most are good citizens, and are violently anti-Communist.

The awakening of our big labor unions to the real danger of Communism to the common man is most encouraging. When we returned from Russia in 1945 we tried to point out to the American laboring men and particularly to their leaders the fact that Communism was the greatest enemy that labor had. We were alarmed to find so much Communism in the labor unions and particularly in the C. I. O. In fact, shortly after our return, nineteen C. I. O. vice-presidents visited Moscow, where they were wine-d, dined, and feted by the Russian leaders, all as a part of the Kremlin's scheme to spread Communism in this country. When these vice-presidents returned to this country, they gave out a statement in which they said in part that the American laboring man had so much in common with the Soviet trade unions that the two ought to work more closely together. After the exposition of Communism in this country, showing that it was the greatest enemy that labor had, these unions began to weed the Communists out. The result today is that the Communists control very few local unions. The labor leaders might now profit their members by taking another look. They could cooperate more fully in the battle against inflation. Inflation is one of the deadliest enemies to have in this currently unbalanced economic condition. Of course, we all realize that if everything else is permitted to go up, labor must also go up. But it must be apparent to all wage earners that the never-ceasing drive for increased wages only brings about the increased cost of everything that the wage earner has to buy. Labor leaders could do their members a real constructive service by joining in a fight for all-out across-the-board controls. For, every intelligent laborer must realize that you cannot control the cost of the products which he buys without also controlling labor. This whole question of controls and the fight against inflation will be coming up again shortly in the Congress. The Congress, Labor, Capital, and the Administration, in the common interest, should get their collective heads together and put a stop to this inflation spirit, the battle with Communism with, out the necessity of Russia firing a gun.

WAVELAND NEWS

The Chalmette volunteer fire department will dedicate its new fire station—the first built in St. Bernard parish, in ceremonies Saturday and Sunday.

Members of the department include Sam Celino, a frequent visitor to Waveland, assistant volunteer fire chief; Chief Arnold Toups; A. J. Taranto, vice-president; Charles Borchers, Jr., treasurer; Charles Bourgeois, financial secretary; and James Dygert, recording secretary.

The new station is a 30 by 50, foot concrete block structure partially built by the volunteers themselves. It has room for two fire engines and a three-room apartment at the rear which will be occupied by a paid full-time fireman.

According to officials, the volunteers financed construction of the building through a loan, contributions of Chalmette residents and the proceeds of contests and dances.

The engine is rented by the volunteers for $1 a year from the New Orleans Fire Department.

Gulfport Merchant Plan Dividend Day

Retail merchants in Gulfport plan to show their appreciation to their customers for record-breaking sales during the first five months of this year by staging a big DIVIDEND DAY there Wednesday, June 20.

WANT TO SHARE

Marvin Fortner, chairman of the Retail Merchants committee of the Gulfport Chamber of Commerce, stated this week that the name, "Dividend Day," was selected because the merchants in Gulfport want to share their dividends with customers trading in Gulfport on that day.

MANY VALUES

"While all stores in Gulfport will carry real money-saving bargains on Dividend Day, many firms have accumulated large stocks of seasonal merchandise which will be greatly reduced in price for this event," the chairman said. He added, "on Dividend Day, June 20, our stores will have values not seen on the Gulf Coast in many, many years." Mr. Fortner cordially invited readers of the Sea Coast Echo to read this paper for special notices and to come to Gulfport for their share of the savings offered in Gulfport's Big Dividend Day, June 20.

Outlines Methods For Improvement

Four ways in which grass and legumes can be made to increase farm production are outlined by Fitzhugh Lee, Chairman of the Hancock County PMA Committee.

(1) By renovating, fertilizing, liming, and managed grazing, yields from pasture and hayland often can be greatly increased.

(2) By clearing off weeds, liming and fertilizing land now in broom sedge or other non-palatable plants can often be made to produce an abundance of good feed.

(3) By improving grasses and legumes in rotation yields of subsequent field crops also are improved. Stepped up yields from grasses and legumes step up the soil improving processes which stem from grasses and legumes. The two work together as a team to increase production all along the line.

(4) By improving pasture and hayland the pressure on corn and other feed grains is reduced and adds up to more meat, milk, wool and other livestock products.

Chairman Lee points out that the 1951 Agricultural Conservation Program includes practices to help improve pastures.

Production From 304 Wells Handled Through Gulf's Laurel Headquarters

Gulf Refining Company's, Zone 10, Production Headquarters is located at Laurel, Mississippi in an attractive (1) building at the corner of 5th Avenue and 5th Street, that was formerly the Laurel high school. Gulf purchased this structure in 1945 and completely remodeled and modernized it. From this headquarters Gulf now directs its entire production activities in Mississippi that include the constant supervision of 249 oil and 53 gas wells. Typical of these 304 producing wells is the above (2) installation in the west Heidelberg field. Exploration for and discovery of oil and gas is dramatic but once production is found it requires men, materials and constant supervision to keep producing wells flowing in conformity with allowed production. Gulf employs some 200 people in its Mississippi production operations, and has built several "camps" consisting of, modern homes in pleasant surroundings for many of them. Scene (3) is a view down a Gulf "camp" street at Heidelberg. Picture (4) is of W. W. Ramseur, Zone Superintendent of Production at his desk in Gulf's Laurel Headquarters. All of Gulf's production under superintendent Ramseur is divided into the Heidelberg Area, Gwinville Area and Baxterville Area. Each area has an area production superintendent, and all of the other personnel essential to efficient operation. Scene (5) is Gulf's production warehouse, garage and machine shops located at Heidelberg. From this point equipment and materials flow in to the three production areas that include Heidelberg, Encarta, Soso, Yellow Creek, Baxterville, Gwinville, Jallalieu and Shiley fields. Field operations require chief clerks, carpenters, garage, machine shop and transportation warehouse and stockmen; pumpers; mechanics; welders; watchmen; and many others. The Laurel Headquarters building also provides offices for Gulf's Geological Department under the direction of zone geologist J. D. Nunnally and Gulf's Engineering Department under George Vincent. In an adjacent building is Gulf's Core Laboratory under J. B. Tomlinson. All members of the Gulf family in Mississippi take an interest in local civic, church and social activities. They are active in Chamber of Commerce, Red Cross, Community Chest and PTA work. Gulf encourages each member of its organization to be a good citizen and to enter into the community life. Gulf's Laurel Production Headquarters now has seven drilling crews active and from two to six such crews are continuously seeking to further develop Mississippi's oil and gas resources.

Prosper with pastures. Year-round pastures are no longer a possibility, they are here. Improved pastures mean improved homes, according to Extension pasture specialists.

Experienced --- Capable --- Progressive

In my announcement for the office of Supervisor, Beat 5, I stated that I proposed to lend every assistance to the other Supervisors in surfacing all of the main roads leading to the county seat; so that travelling here would become a pleasure and a habit, and in that manner encourage a trade at home program.

Do we need a trade at home program? We certainly do, and it can be made possible, through a good road program for the county; carried to completion it will bring people of the rural section of the county here to transact their business.

I have heard it expressed on many occasions by some of our outstanding citizens from the upper section of the county that they would be happy to come here if their roads were surfaced, but that under the present conditions they accepted the shortest route to a trading center.

The farm and dairy income of the people of rural Hancock County has grown tremendously, and today it is probably the biggest source of income we have. We should lend every encouragement to these people to do business in their own county, and the best way is to offer them good roads, which will bring them to their county seat, affording them an opportunity to once again be identified with their county, and become interested in the building of a bigger and better Hancock County.

I earnestly solicit your support and influence and I assure you, if elected your Supervisor, that I shall do all within my power to sell Hancock County to its own people, and that I will render you a progressive, competent and faithful administration, ever endeavoring to carry my program to a definite conclusion.

HARVESTED Timber Land is BUSIER than ever

IDEAS about forests have changed in the last two decades.

Most land formerly cleared by the farm industries was destined for agricultural use . . . Now the country has an abundance of farm land and the process is being reversed. Marginal acres, which never should have been turned to field crops are turning into FREE FARMS.

Land which is unsuited to agriculture will produce good trees . . . and should be kept in continuous forest production . . . the most economic occupation for nearly a third of our total land area.

OUR harvested land is busy growing new trees . . . we see to it that seedling plantations have protection from fire and other natural enemies.

Spangenburg - Moore Nuptials Held

St. Andrew's Episcopal church, New Orleans, was the scene of the recent wedding of Miss Nancy Katherine Moore of New Orleans and Leonard Reese Spangenburg, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Spangenburg of Pass Christian Isles and New Orleans. The Rev. Robert H. Manning solemnized the nuptials.

The bride, daughter of Mrs. Lyle Moore and the late Mr. Moore, was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Kennedy Joseph Gilly.

Her gown, made of alternate bands of tuck and embroidered organza was fashioned with fitted bodice, balloon sleeves and ouffant skirt. Horizontal bands went around the bodice making a boat-shaped neckline. The full skirt, featuring vertical bands from the waist to hem at the front, spread into a train.

Her full length veil of illusion was held in place by clusters of roses of the valley at each ear. She carried a spray of valley lilies with white orchids.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Kennedy Joseph Gilly, was matron of honor. The other attendants were Miss Emmie Wingate, Mrs. George B. Harrison III and Miss Natalie Gessner as bridesmaids and Miss Lizette Walker, a cousin of the bridegroom, as junior bridesmaid.

They were gowns of pale green starched chiffon. The low round necklines were softened by bands of deeper green, in two shades. Detailing the gathered skirts, were a series of folds of the shaded green at one side. Their bouquets were of daisies combined with variegated ivy. They wore wreaths of daisies in their hair.

Walker Spangenburg served his brother as best man. The groomsmen were Philip Roach and Albert Laner. Ushering were his uncle, Donald Rue of Shreveport, and a cousin, Orloff Henry, Jr.

A reception, following the ceremony, was held at the Webster street home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry White. Close friends of the bride.

Upon their return from a wedding trip, the couple will be at home at 4429 S. Galvez street, New Orleans.

By W. F. Bond, Commissioner State Department Public Welfare

Since 1946, the Department of Public Welfare has been helping operate the Parole Program for men released from the State Penitentiary on parole. The Parole Act of 1946 made all county welfare agents parole officers, responsible for helping all state parolees living in their respective counties. The Parole Board is responsible for deciding who is eligible for parole, and for deciding to what community an applicant should be released. Release, or planning, are made by anyone in the Welfare Department.

After men are paroled, they report once each month to their county welfare agent. If parolees get into trouble after they are released on parole, the county welfare agent informs the Parole Board of this fact, and the Parole Board has the authority either to allow the man to remain on parole, or to return him to the State Penitentiary.

In 1948, Mississippi became a member of the Inter-State Compact for the Supervision of Parolees and Probationers. Under this compact, residents of Mississippi convicted of crimes in other states may return to Mississippi to live and work, and to be supervised just as if they were on parole from the Mississippi State Penitentiary. The parole boards of other states ask county welfare agents for reports of investigation before they let men come back to Mississippi, but Mississippi authorities by agreement have to give supervision to the parolees of other states, even though the citizens interviewed during the investigation feel that the man should not return to Mississippi. While out-of-state parolees remain in Mississippi, they must obey the laws of the State, the Mississippi parole regulations, and the regulations of their own state. County Welfare agents make regular reports on out-of-state parolees, also.

Release, or planning, are made by anyone in the Welfare Department.

After men are paroled, they report once each month to their county welfare agent. If parolees get into trouble after they are released on parole, the county welfare agent informs the Parole Board of this fact, and the Parole Board has the authority either to allow the man to remain on parole, or to return him to the State Penitentiary.

In 1948, Mississippi became a member of the Inter-State Compact for the Supervision of Parolees and Probationers. Under this compact, residents of Mississippi convicted of crimes in other states may return to Mississippi to live and work, and to be supervised just as if they were on parole from the Mississippi State Penitentiary. The parole boards of other states ask county welfare agents for reports of investigation before they let men come back to Mississippi, but Mississippi authorities by agreement have to give supervision to the parolees of other states, even though the citizens interviewed during the investigation feel that the man should not return to Mississippi. While out-of-state parolees remain in Mississippi, they must obey the laws of the State, the Mississippi parole regulations, and the regulations of their own state. County Welfare agents make regular reports on out-of-state parolees, also.

It's No Pink Tea Affair Says Author

The following article on the Blue Jean Garden Club of Clermont Harbor appeared in the May issue of the DIXIE GUIDE of Gulfport. The article, written by Maud G. McDaris, appeared under the columns, Garden Lure.

"The Blue Jeans Garden Club, Clermont Harbor, you immediately know, is not a pink-tea affair. A more descriptive name for a real working organization would be hard to find, and a group of women more entitled to that name still harder to find. The men of this little village also seem to qualify as real gardeners. In conversation with one of them, I found that he had spent 15 years growing roses from seeds, and I was shown some red radiance bushes much nicer than any Texas-grown plants. The blooms were a brighter red and much larger than I have seen elsewhere. Perhaps we are spending too much time arranging or talking about flowers and not enough in their cultivation.

THE WAY OF IT

"The Blue Jeans Garden Club was organized soon after the 1947 storm, Mrs. J. P. Rousseau, president, said "Because we realized that it would take concerted action if we were to accomplish the task before us." Mrs. Rex Cope and Mrs. Aggie Orr were appointed campaign committee chairman and co-chairman. Every member pledged to work. Contests to determine whose garden or section showed the greatest improvement in a given time created friendly rivalry. A fine was imposed on anyone who used the words STORM or HURRICANE. The penalty money was used to buy shrubs and seeds to improve the school and church grounds.

Mrs. F. O. McCoy, secretary, said, "We also resolved to make our town more attractive than it had ever been and the organization grew and prospered."

"Is it any wonder that the men are cooperating with this group of 39 ardent workers?"

"An old Chinese proverb says, 'Sow dry and get wet.'"

The rose bushes referred to in the beginning of the article are those grown by J. P. Rousseau from seed. Mr. Rousseau, an ardent gardener, has some tomato trees that yielded approximately 800 pounds of tomatoes last summer.

The trees are thriving this year, and Mr. Rousseau expects an even larger crop.

The State Health Officer Says:

WARNING

1. Exposure to x-ray machines is harmful.
2. Customers must not operate these machines.
3. Limit for each employee: 5 x-ray shoe fittings per day, 20 x-ray shoe fittings per year.

According to State Health Officer Felix J. Underwood, these are the words on new shoe fitting machines in local shoe stores in Mississippi.

"Much has been said recently machines may have if improperly regulated or carelessly used," Dr. Underwood said. "Accumulated knowledge and experience do reveal grave danger in overexposure of the human body to x-radiation." It has been shown that overexposure to x-rays can cause reddening of the skin, leukemia, cancer, and some types of anemia. This overexposure has also been known to affect the growth of bones in children. Severe damage can be done without the immediate knowledge of the affected individual since nature's normal warning signal—immediate pain in the affected part—is not felt.

Because these facts have been widely publicized with regard to shoe fitting machines, public interest demanded that the Mississippi State Board of Health investigate the machines in operation in the state. Dr. Underwood continued. The industrial hygiene unit has recently completed a state-wide survey of x-ray fluoroscopic shoe fitters.

This survey revealed that corrective measures were necessary for the protection of the health of clerks and customers who use the machines. The State Board of Health passed regulations requiring rectification and inspection of all x-ray shoe fitting devices in the state. "The object of these new regulations is to protect public health from the use of the machines. The result should serve, rather, to assure the people of this state that the machines will be in proper condition and that their use is carefully supervised," the state health officer concluded.

Everybody is cautioned to look for the warning signs mentioned above, for machines not properly registered with the health department unless they bear such a warning.

PARTNERS IN MISSISSIPPI'S PROGRESS

Lithograph by Mildred Nungesser Wolfe, Mississippi artist.

Mining Mississippi Style

Oil production which started just before World War II, contributed over 65 million dollars to the income of Mississippians last year... a sum equal to one-fourth of our income from cotton and to nearly half of our income from lumber.

Yes, oil is one of several big reasons why the average Mississippi's income has increased by over 320 per cent since 1939.

Mississippi's increasing prosperity has been followed by an increasing demand for more telephones, and Southern Bell has met this demand with an increase of 104,124 telephones in 4½ years—a gain of 90%. The cost was approximately 45 million dollars—more than half again as much as the 26 million dollars we had invested in Mississippi at the end of our first 65 years of operation.

The more telephones there are, the more efficient production becomes, so we plan to increase our facilities in Mississippi by approximately one million dollars a month—as long as our earnings attract needed capital from investors and the materials we need are not required for national defense.

ACTION PROVES HUGH WHITE'S ABILITY

Results — instead of Promises — have signified the many years of public service Hugh White has humbly given to the people of Mississippi. HE HAS MORE PLANS FOR GREATER RESULTS IN THE FUTURE.

No matter who you are — wherever you live — or what you do, one of the following bills has improved your way of LIFE and your loved ones' future. Check the ones that have helped YOU.

✓ HOMESTEAD EXEMPTION LAW

Hugh White firmly believes that your home — the sacred dwelling that protects you from storm and stress — that gives you privacy and the comfort of the family circle — should not be taxed. He valiantly fought for the passage of the HOMESTEAD EXEMPTION LAW and signed it to the advantage and benefit of all Mississippians.

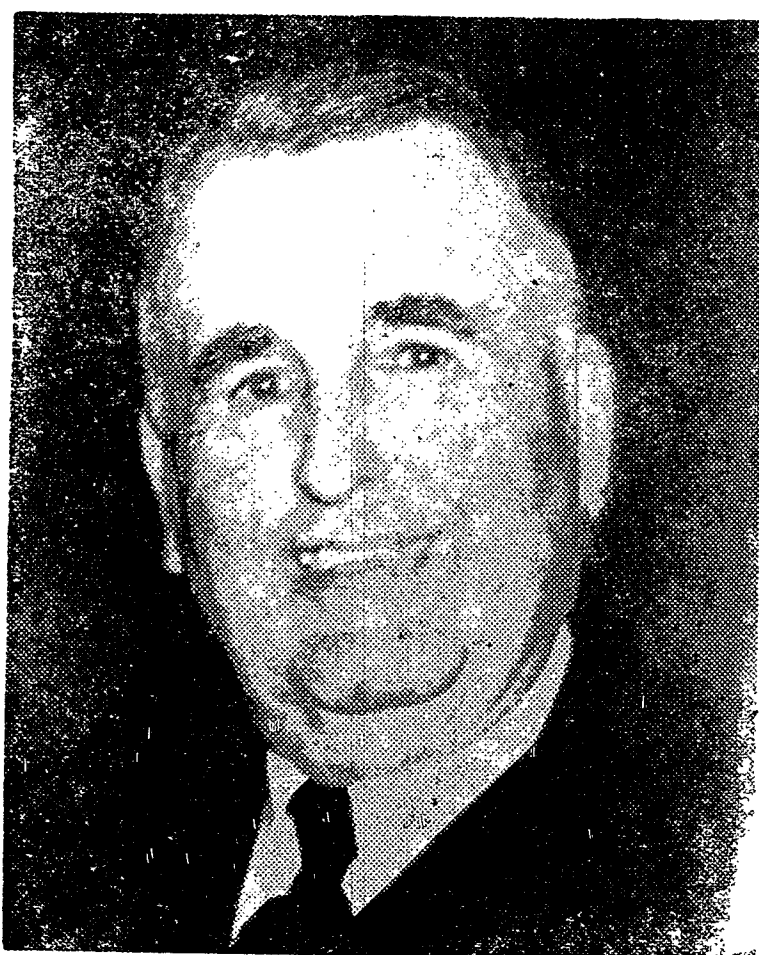

✓ HIGHWAY EXPANSION PROGRAM

Gravel highways and mud-hole wagon ruts typified our road system in Mississippi when the Hugh White Administration developed and built our modern and beautiful highway system. Farm markets were far away — people were isolated. A criss-cross of concrete and asphalt ended those weary day-long journeys of the past. Today, a short, pleasant drive moves our crops to market and takes us to our friends, churches, schools, and loved ones. With Hugh White's leadership, Mississippi roads will continue to improve — Everyone will be nearer to town.

✓ STATE HOSPITAL AND FOUR YEAR MEDICAL COLLEGE

No one likes to see sickness visit their home and relentlessly drain away the life of their loved ones. Even more pitiful is sickness without proper tools to fight back. Our State Hospital and Medical School will provide these necessary tools.

Training — research — surgery — diagnosis — treatment and modern equipment facilities will be provided for doctors, nurses, students, technicians — and those who are sick. Hugh White has strongly supported and energetically worked for the positive approval of the State Hospital and Medical College. As a member of the Building Commission, he had the privilege of working with the Legislature in obtaining the necessary funds for construction of this greatly needed Statewide Medical Center.

✓ BAWI — BALANCE AGRICULTURE WITH INDUSTRY

Steady payrolls, comfortable homes, good clothes, better farm prices and opportunity for our young people at home are a few of the results of Hugh White's nationally famous BAWI Plan.

Hugh White's administration created the bill only to see it die. White led the fight to revive it and the bill has since been used to make our state nationally known for industrial pioneering and expansion.

✓ RURAL ELECTRIFICATION

Hugh White's administration made it possible for our rural people of Mississippi to enjoy the comfort and conveniences of electricity. Hugh White advocates rural electrification whenever it is economically sensible — he signed the law that created the availability of REA in Mississippi.

✓ OLD AGE PENSION

Hugh White signed into law the first Old Age Pension Plan. He believes in adequate provisions for the care of the needy and aged.

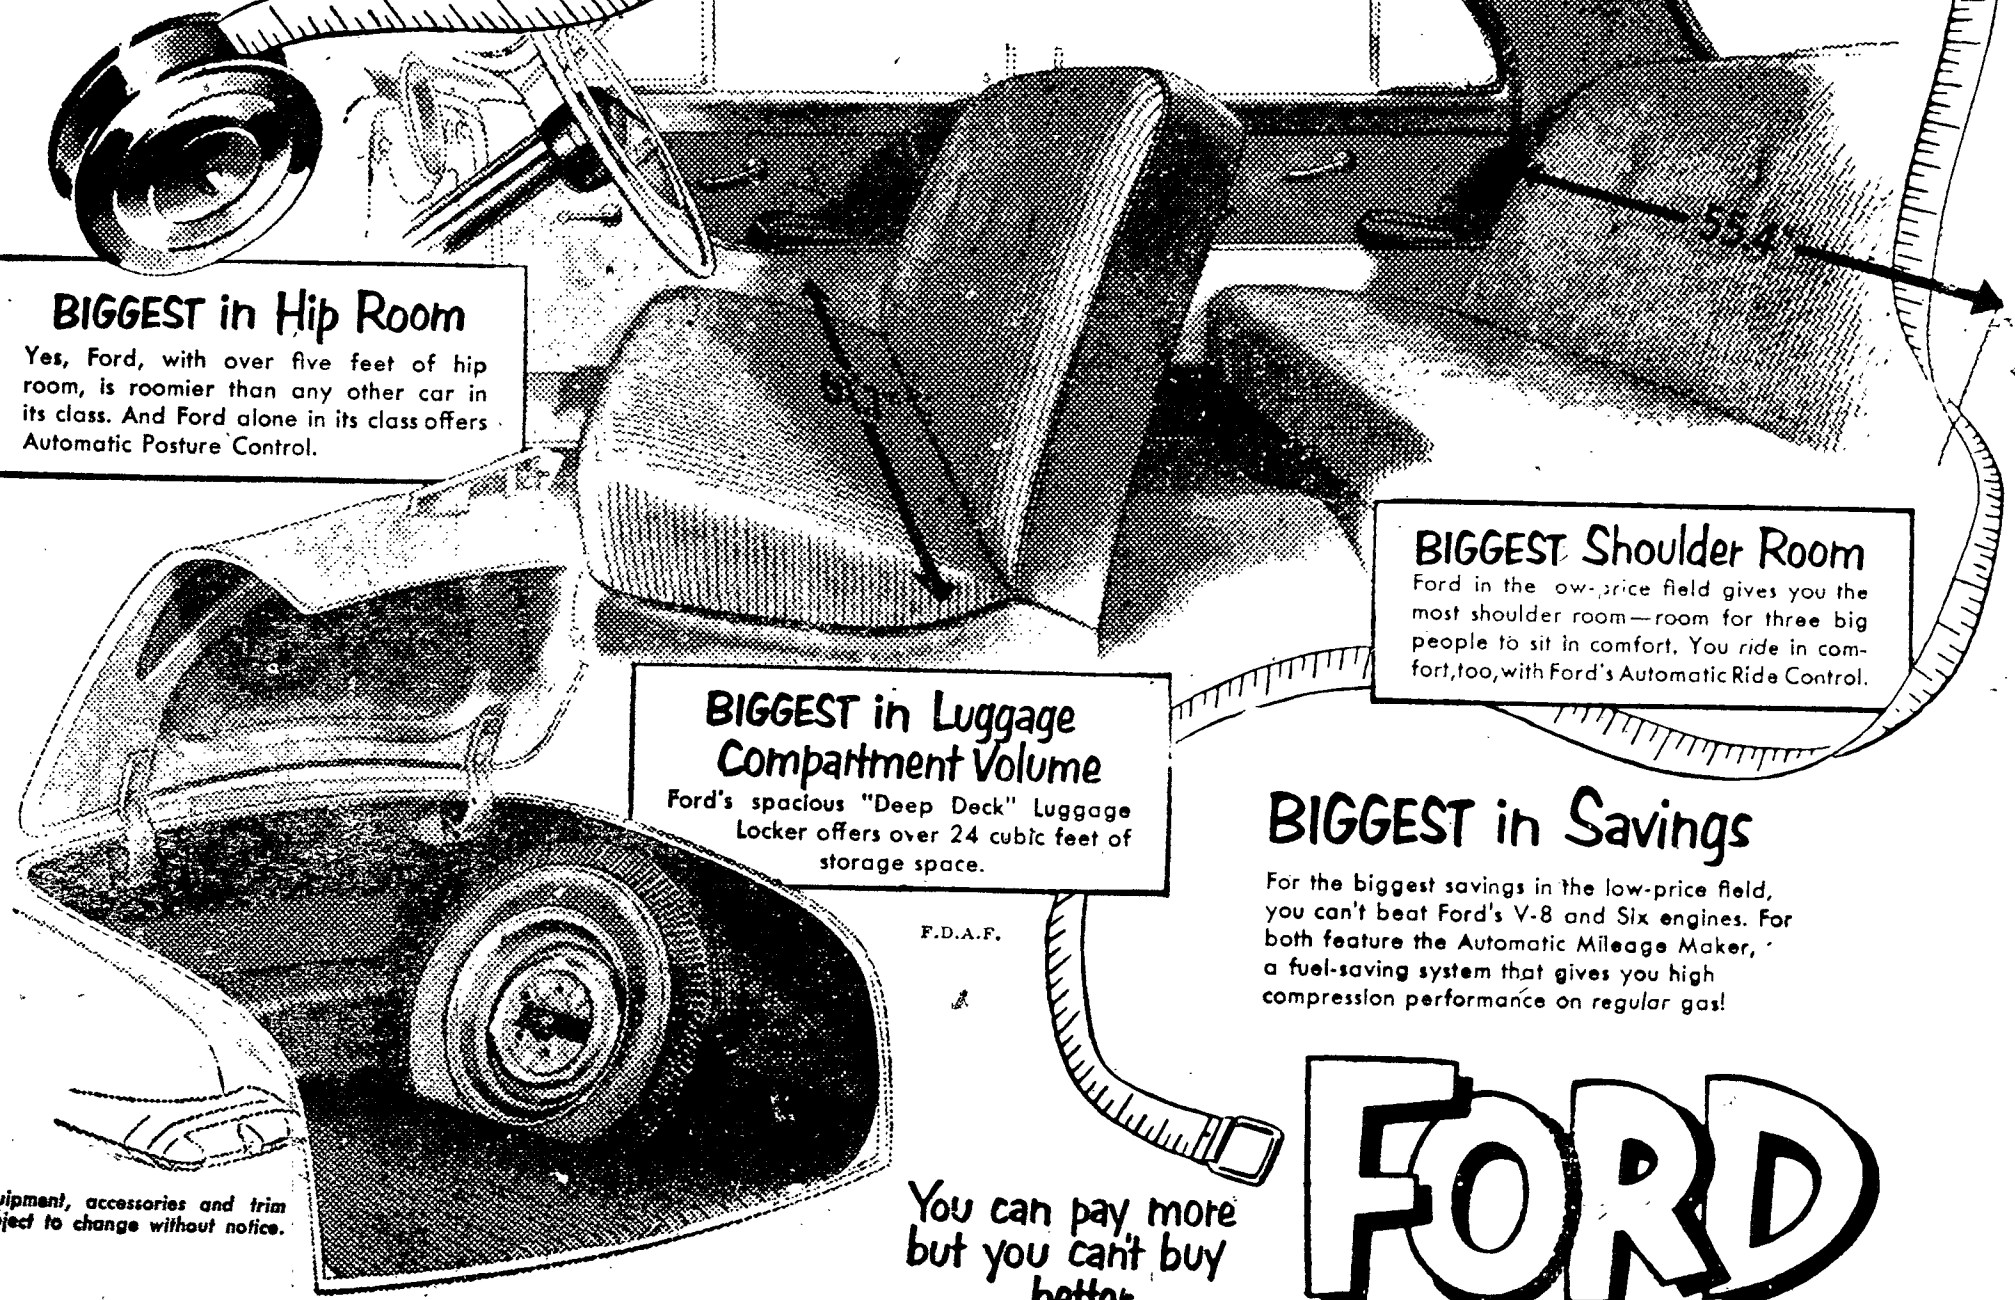

GIVE WHITE THE GREEN LIGHT — NO SUBSTITUTE FOR EXPERIENCE

O P S NEWS

AMENDMENT TO CPR 7

Many small retail stores in Mississippi with limited bookkeeping facilities and clerical help have been given the option of continuing to price under the General Ceiling Price Regulation, rather than under the retail CPR 7, by an amendment issued May 28.

The new amendment to CPR 7 permits small retailers selling housewares, notions, sporting goods, silverware, China, glassware, jewelry, watches and clocks to elect to price under the GPCR rather than under CPR 7. Retailers are relieved of certain "squeeze" situations in which they have been caught since the January 26 price freeze.

Mississippi retailers needing detailed information relative to CPR 7 and Amendments, should contact the OPS Price Executive in Jackson.

OPS IN NEW LOCATION

The Mississippi Office of Price Stabilization is now located in the Feld Furniture Company Building at 126 East Amite Street in Jackson.

OPS officials explained that the move to larger quarters was necessary because of the increase in the district office staff. Approximately 114 people will be employed as soon as applications can be cleared through the Regional OPS Office in Atlanta and U. S. Civil Service Commission.

WHAT DO WE MEAN BY 'LEVELING OFF'?

Figures may make dry reading, but it is unquestionably true that most Americans are interested in figures today than perhaps at any time in history. The figures which determine the cost of living and particularly those which represent a week's grocery bill.

Now, while many are weeping and wailing and gnashing their teeth because the Government has put controls on prices, it may be interesting as well as informative, to take a look at a few figures.

Those who are shouting the loudest for abolition of controls are contending in the same breath that without controls prices will level off and the bugaboo of inflation will be diminished. That, Americans will recall, is the echo of what was bandied about so freely in the days of the Office of Price Administration during and immediately after World War II.

What happened after OPA was short of its power and then discarded should have provided an object lesson. Apparently it did not.

What happened may be related by a few stark figures which do not lie. The figures were compiled by the United States Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics.

The average price of a loaf of bread during the period 1935-39 was 8.3 cents. OPA was activated in 1941 and remained in active operation through 1945. The highest price bread reached during the existence of price control was 8.9 cents in December, 1943. When OPA's control powers expired, the price of bread began a steady rise. In December, 1946, it had reached 11 1/2 cents a loaf. In December 1947, it had climbed to 13.6. By the same month in 1948 the price was 14 cents. Last December it had soared to 14.7 cents.

Broad is no exception. The average price of round steak a pound in the 1935-1939 period was 38 cents. The peak reached during OPA's existence was 44.7 cents. Abolish OPA and prices will level off, was the cry.

From 40.9 cents a pound in December, 1945, the price of round steak climbed to 64.3 cents in December the following year. It has risen steadily each year since and last December consumers paid an average of $1.08 a pound for it.

Prior to World War II, hamburger was selling for about 33.1 cents a pound. In December, 1945, the price was 27.5 cents. The following December, with price controls abandoned, it spiraled to 41.4 cents. The price last December averaged 62 cents.

The top average price for pork chops during OPA's existence was 43.1 cents a pound. The price last December was 71 1/2 cents. Eggs, which sold at top price of 68.2 cents a dozen during OPA days, brought 86.6 cents in December, 1950. Coffee, whose controlled price reached a maximum of 30.7 cents a pound, was selling for an average of 83.3 cents a pound, last December.

To put the situation another way, using an index figure of 100 as representing the average price in the 1935-39 period, the price of all fresh meats rose to a maximum figure of 127.6 under controls (this was in December 1942). Last December, the index figure stood at 252.6.

Remove the controls and let prices level off, continues the cry. Will they level off in the same way they "leveled" off after the abolition of OPA?

To add a professional looking glaze to roast duck, turkey or chicken, beat one-half cup of a tart jelly with a fork and spread it over the fowl for the last half hour of roasting, recommended Extension foods specialists.
